[Montreal] : NFB, 1977.- 1 reel (24 min.) : sd., col. ; 16 mm.
SUMMARY:The legendary relationship between the West Coast Indians and the salmon, once their staple food, is revealed in this film that contrasts ancient myth and modern reality. We see how Raven finds riches in the harvest of the salmon only to lose everything through a thoughtless act against the Spirit of the Salmon. So too does modern man jeopardize his living from the sea by heedless action. Images of ancient spear-fishing and primitive smoke-houses contrast with images of today's Indians operating a seiner and working in a co-op cannery.

In Feb. 1958 Egypt and Syria united to form the United Arab Republic, of which Egypt and Syria were the component provinces. Syria withdrew from the union on Sept. 28, 1961. Egypt retained the name United Arab Republic as its own official designation until Sept. 2, 1971, when this name was changed to Arab Republic of Egypt.
Works by Egypt before the union in 1958, by the province of Egypt during the existence of the union, and by the Arab Republic of Egypt after the change of name in 1971, are all found under Egypt.
Similarly all works by Syria (including those by the provincial government during the existence of the union) are found under Syria.
Works by the United Arab Republic are found under United Arab Republic.
SUBJECT ENTRY: Works about these jurisdictions regardless of period covered are normally entered under Egypt and/or Syria. However works limited in subject coverage to the historical, political or cultural aspects of the United Arab Republic (the jurisdiction formed by the merger of Egypt and Syria) for the 1958-1961 period only are entered under United Arab Republic.

American Broadcasting Company.
The American Broadcasting System was incorporated in Mar. 1943. The name was changed in Oct. 1944 to American Broadcasting Company, and in Dec. 1944 this company absorbed the Blue Network Company (founded 1942). In Feb. 1953 the American Broadcasting Company merged with United Paramount Theatres to form American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres. In July 1965 the name of the latter was changed to American Broadcasting Companies. American Broadcasting Company still functions as a division of the larger company.
